

You will notice the difference!

Front Panel Express is founded upon the roots of German engineering and has grown to become the absolute specialist in the production of customized front panels and enclosures. This is achieved by giving customers free CAD software to create one-off front panels easily and quickly.

We constantly develop our products to adapt to our customers' demands. We practice the philosophy of continuous improvement to advance our manufacturing processes, provide highest quality, outstanding customer service and best pricing.

We frequently break new ground and experiment with new products and projects in house. Ordinary processes or common practices do not satisfy us. We are always striving to improve. This is also reflected in the software and techniques we use. Our unique business concept requires a powerful ERP system that we found in ADempiere, an open source system we helped to develop. This is not the only place we prefer open source. We are proud to be independent and will continue to remain innovative by developing our own concepts within IT and manufacturing communities.

Working with us, you will notice the Front Panel Express difference.
